THE CROPS.

Favorable Reports from Alabama and Tennessee—The Largest Crops Since the War.

NASHVILLE, July 2.—The Committee on Information and Statistics of the Nashville Cotton Exchange submitted the following report for June this morning:

GENTLEMEN:—Your committee respectfully submit their crop report for the month of June, in response to inquiries sent in under the date of the 24th inst. From the cheerful tone of the answers and with no unforseen disaster, we think that the country may look forward to the largest crops of all kinds produced since the war. Labor is reported as much improved, the crops better worked, cleaner, and the grounds in a better state of cultivation than for years.

The Weather.

In portions of Alabama complaints are made of want of rain, while in Tennessee, near this city, there is some complaint of too much, but from other directions the reports are very favorable and highly satisfactory. Since our report was written seasonable rains have fallen in locations reported dry.

A correspondent from Courtland, Ala., Mr. Parshal, sent us a bloom under date of the 25th ult.

In Tennessee thirty-four report warm and dry; thirty seasonable, with plenty of rain; others favorable, except cool nights. Alabama favorable.

Cotton.

In Tennessee two report cotton plowed up and corn planted. All agree that the decrease in acreage is fully 25 per cent. less than last year. Alabama reports no decrease.

In Tennessee eight report bad stands. The balance report good stands. In Alabama the stands are good. Only two report bad stands. One reports boll on the 28th ult. In Tennessee forty-eight report the plant small, behind last season. Alabama reports the crop better, the plant small, and ten days to two weeks later.

Labor.

All reports from Tennessee and Alabama say labor is much better. All are hard at work.

Insects.

Few report damage by insects and five damage by grasshoppers. The crops are clean and in fine cultivation.

Wheat.

Alabama reports an average yield of wheat—eight bushels, one as high as twenty, and one as low as five. In Tennessee the average yield will be about twelve bushels.

Corn.

Alabama reports the corn crop very good. There never was a better prospect for a large crop. In Tennessee all answer good, several splendid, two never better, seven fine, and one the best he ever saw.

LONDON, July 2.—The Indian Government is in communication with the India Office relative to the action necessary to take in regard to Burmah. Sir Douglass Forsyth has left for Sinula.

The Shooting Contest.

DUBLIN, July 2.—The official score of the international rifle match at Dollymount on Tuesday, which is published to-day, gives Dakin 52 instead of 51, at 1,000 yards range, and makes the number of points by which the American beat the Irish team 39, instead of 38.

The contest for the Abercorn cup at Dollymount ended to-day. Edward Johnson, of the Irish team, won by a total score of 383. Rigby and Pollock made higher scores, but as they had been winners before, the cup was awarded to Johnson. Of the Americans the best scores were as follows: Fulton, 371; Gildersleeve, 369; Bodine, 364; Coleman, 360. The Americans won several all-comers prizes to-day. The weather was bad for the riflemen. Rain fell during the day and there was a high wind.

The Dublin journals, referring to Major Leech's retirement from the Captaincy of the Irish team, concur in saying that Ireland is indebted to Major Leech for long range shooting, which he established in the face of great difficulties.

Races at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., July 2.—First race, running, 1 mile and repeat. Daisy Miller took the first heat in 1:45, and Hazem the second and third in 1:44½ and 1:45.

Second race, 3 minute trot. Stony Branch took the first heat in 2:35, Geo. Johnson the second in 2:34, Scotland the third in 2:30¼, Nettie Ward the fourth in 2:36¼, and Scotland the fifth and sixth and race in 2:35½ and 2:36.

The third contest was a 2:30 race. Belle Brassfield took the first and second heats in 2:29 and 2:28. She also took the third in 2:31, but this heat was declared off, and a new driver was put behind A. F. Fawcett's Albert on the presumption that the old driver was not driving to win. Belle Brassfield, however, took the heat and race in 2:30¼, leaving Albert in the rear of the field, whereas in the first and second heats he had stood third and second respectively.

Long Branch.

"How is it," I asked of an old New Yorker who was sitting under the roof of one of those small Summer houses which are dotted all over the two miles of bluff at Long Branch—"How is it that the season is so very backward at this watering place?"

The New Yorker, who comes to Long Branch every year more from a habit than from love of the place, answered slowly between the vapory puffs of his Regina Victoria:—

"Well, there are a good many reasons, and as I do not want to be assassinated by the combined hotel keepers, who are all known to me, I will be as careful as possible in my statements. To begin with, the edge is worn off Long Branch. It isn't as new as it was, and it lacks novelty. Five years ago its success as a watering place reached the maximum. But there is not as much money going as there used to be, and for what you get here the prices are desperately high. You see Long Branch is purely a watering place and nothing else. It is not like Brighton, which has a population of 80,000 in the season, and which is a full grown city even in the Winter time. It isn't like Newport, which is full of repose and which is frequented by the best people in the country who desire real enjoyment, and it has no shade or back country. It is not like Dieppe, which has a cathedral for sentimental people to investigate and talk to each other about. It cannot compare with any of the great German watering places like Carlsbad, Ems or Wildbad, where there is a cultivated and refined society to be met with and where, if you can't talk well, play cards or dance, you have privilege of looking at a king, an emperor, some great statesman or a picturesque body of soldiery or peasantry in the colors of the rainbow. No king or emperor is likely to visit Long Branch, our statesman are mostly from the slums of New York and Brooklyn.

"But," said I, in possibly faint deprecation, "there is the bluff and the swelling and sinking Atlantic. Is it not a grand sight to look at the billows and breakers come thundering in?"

"Yes, I know all about that," answered my bilious acquaintance, "that looks very well in a story book, of course, but you see the awful hotel bills a man has to pay at the end of the week destroys all the beauty of the surf. The prices are too high in every sense, and the prices are consequent on the expenses of the help, who swarm, so numerous are they, and the outrageously exorbitant rents that are charged to the hotel keepers. At any of the large hotels it is impossible to get board less than $4.50 or $5 per day and the extra expenses. It is very hard for any man to spend $35 a week for simple board, and many single men here do it, in addition to their regular expenses in the city; and there are a number of people who spend $100 a week and consider themselves cheaply let off. Mind you, these are single men, without families, who come here to enjoy themselves, and they have no wives or sisters to dress as expensively as they must at this costly place."

And now I must close by giving the hotel people an opportunity to speak. At all the principal hotels the expectations are very great of a brilliant summer season. When the season is at its height the hotels at Long Branch are full, and when they are full it is known that they will hold 10,000 guests of both sexes, with all their impediments. At present there are not 500 guests at the Long Branch hotels, but the bustle of preparation is great, and I have no doubt, when it is a little warmer and when the damp nights have ceased to be, that the crush will come. But for a trip there is no such weather as that which we are now enjoying, and which I experienced for the past two days in all its glory. At the West End, the Ocean, Laird's Mansion House, the Central Hotel, a new European hotel, kept by Vollmer & Jouss; Howland's, Governor Morris' Pavilion, the Metropolitan, the United States and other large and well known hotels the busy clerks declare that there was never such a success in the past as will come next month. It is needful that there should be a big success for the expense of running a hotel in this place is something to appal a man whose capital is of a moderate nature. To accommodate, wait on and attend in various ways to the ten thousand guests who are expected and who will probably come, at least three thousand servants of both sexes and of all colors are needed here, and the wages and provisioning of this number of people can well be imagined, and it has all to come from the pockets of the people who come here, and who could live in any part of Europe at a cost of thirty per cent less and have certainly as good attendance, food and sleep. The majority of the floating population here is of the Jewish race, and it is impossible to walk a hundred feet along the beach or under the long colonnades of the hotels without meeting scores of them, prominent by dark eyes, showy dresses, costly diamonds and strongly marked types of features and race. Half of the cottages are either owned, rented or occupied by Jewish families or Jewish speculators, and they seem, as in many other places, to control the rise and fall of real estate.

Saratoga.

The past week has been a very successful one in regard to the season. The number of arrivals has increased each day, the sum total for the week being 1,070 registered at the large hotels. The weather has been, with the exception of one day (Thursday) very pleasant. The mercury on that day ranged from 92 degrees to 102 degrees in the shade. In the evening the atmosphere was cooled by a shower, which was accompanied by lightning, thunder and a violent wind. Several trees in the village were struck by lightning, and in the morning all through the village the ground was strewn with branches and limbs of trees.

The boats' crews continue to arrive and will all be here in a few days. Those who are here are improving their time in practice. Many people drive out every day to see them, so the monotony of living alone at the lake is much relieved. The stage route and the boat line on the lake are a great convenience to the boys and their friends. The crews have better quarters than last year, and general satisfaction prevails. In order to facilitate travel lakeward on regatta days, the Rowing Association have issued a circular to the farmers in the neighborhood, calling upon them to come in on the days of the regatta and carry people to the lake. In order to encourage them to do so, no license will be required, as heretofore. Liverymen from abroad will also be allowed to come here on those days without license, but a limit will be put upon the prices charged. The limit is as follows:

Hack and driver to lake and return	$12
Hack without driver to lake and return	10
Chariot to lake and return	10
Pony team to lake and return	10
Single horse to lake and return	7

This applies to the livery men—other arrangements will be made for farmers.

The sidewalk will be ready for pedestrians, and as it is south of the drive, it will not be unpleasant for people who are able to walk. The distance can be accomplished in from thirty to forty-five minutes.

Ocean Grove.

This the home of the Methodists and their great Summer camping ground is now in its full swing of popularity. People who own cottages in the grove are arriving daily. The shade of the grove and the waters of the ocean offer an inviting field to those who are chained to the city, to come and be refreshed. The hotels are fast filling up, and the hotel keepers anticipate a grand rush down here this week. Hundreds of young men are coming here where they can obtain the sea air and bathing for less money than they can elsewhere. It was said that 40,000 visitors were down here last year, and I am confident they will double the number this year. The undenominational or Union camp meeting, which is to be held in July, will have more than ordinary interest attached to it. The President of the Ocean Grove Association has charge of it, and it is sure to be a success. The regular camp meeting of the association will be held about the middle of August. Great improvements have been made since August last, and one is surprised to see that he knows so little about things generally. Wesley and Fletcher Lakes, two of the most delightful sheets of water in this neighborhood, have been greatly improved. Nearly all the cottagers own a boat or two, which grace the lakes night and day. It is certainly a sight worth viewing—scores of boats rowed by ladies and gentlemen endeavoring to reach a certain spot in a given time. There are some splendid rowers down here—none celebrated, of course, but I mean ladies. Yes, we have a dozen good lady rowers down here.

Great preparations are being made for boat races, sack races, and tub races. Several ladies and gentlemen have signified their intention of entering the arena, and we have every promise of a pleasant day. In the evening there is to be a grand display of fireworks, and if it is managed as well as it was last year, we shall certainly enjoy our Fourth of July.

The beach of Newport and Long Branch may boast of their exploits, but Ocean Grove prides itself in having as good and pleasant a beach as any in the country. Hundreds throng the beach night and day, but especially at night. It is on the beach the beaux and belles hold sweet commune; papas, mammas and uncles, are as thick as grasshoppers out West. The elite of Philadelphia and the creme de la creme of New York society throng the beach. The grove is situated about seven miles the other side of Long Branch, and may be reached in about four hours from New York.

Some of the Secrets of the Jury-room.

An Indiscreet Remark Prevents a Verdict for Beecher.

NEW YORK, July 2, 1875.

Early this morning the jury in the case of Theodore Tilton against Rev. Henry Ward Beecher breakfasted, and then sent a note to Judge Neilson stating it was impossible for them to agree. The Judge returned an answer that he would be at Court at ten o'clock, and would then send for counsel and communicate with the jury. At that hour His Honor stepped into his private room. There was then assembled in the court nearly the same group of Plymouth people as were there yesterday. Mrs. Beecher came in with Deacon Howard. All standing room was occupied by eleven. Ten minutes later Judge Neilson took his seat, and was followed by lawyers Porter, Shearman, Abbott, Heel and Tracy for the defendants, and Morris and Pearsall for the plaintiff.

Return of the Jury.

At seventeen minutes past twelve the jury filed into the Court, looking as if they had passed a sleepless night. In reply to the question, "Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?" Foreman Carpenter replied: "We have not, your Honor. We regret it very much that we find it impossible to agree."

Judge Neilson stated that he had learned by note from the jury early this morning that in their opinion they should be discharged, as they could not agree, and some of their number were suffering in health. He experienced the force of that application very strongly, and had called them in now at the earliest moment, giving to the counsel and others an opportunity of being present. As they were about to separate, he would like them to carry away kindly recollections and, so far as they could, remove whatever chagrin they felt at being detained so long. He wished them to recollect the fact that not until yesterday did they suggest that and that suggestion came from their foreman signed by eleven, and accompanied by another from one juror, who thought that an agreement was possible. While he had perfect regard and confidence in the opinion of the eleven, and the explanation of the foreman, he thought something due to the juryman. His Honor had the same thing on his mind yesterday at four o'clock, and he allowed juryman Taylor to devote his time to bringing about an agreement so far as he could. He learned from a note they were unable to agree and that the disagreement was in reference to the weight of testimony and the credibility of some witnesses, and it appeared to His Honor and every person conversant with the case that it was impossible for him to hold them by any suggestions. Not even in his charge could he find means of helping them on that point, as the weight of the testimony rested with the jury. It was for them to say what witnesses they could believe and what witnesses they could not. The Court had no right to interfere, and he was glad to be assured that the disagreement did not arise from any want of attention on his part, and God knew there were some points on which he could do nothing. There was one point to which attention had been called, and he would like to learn from them explicitly that the application to take further testimony had not in any way clouded their vision, or occupied their thoughts directly or indirectly.

Foreman Carpenter assured Judge Neilson he was right, as he had questioned many of the jury, and they all told him that they had not it in their thoughts at all.

The Judge said he was much gratified to hear that, and since they had told him they could not agree, he would discharge them.

Discharged.

The clerk then stated that they were now discharged as jurymen.

Mr. Thayer arose then, and said that he wished it to be distinctly understood that the jury did not stand eleven to one, as rumor had it.

Judge Neilson then asked them to remain seated a few minutes, as a photographer wished to take a likeness, but juryman Jeffreys objected, and the Judge allowed them to leave the court. The room was then in confusion, every person crowding forward to have a word with the jurymen. Mrs. Beecher went to the railing, and shook hands with each juryman as he passed.

How the Jury Stood.

The jury were all spoken to as to how they stood, to which they replied that they stood nine to three for acquittal, but the names of the jurors on either side they had taken an oath not to reveal.

Mr. Tilton and Mr. Moulton entered the Court room a few minutes before the jury, but were unable to get to the front and stood near the door until the proceedings ended. As the jurymen passed into the corridors and passages they were besieged with questions, to which they only replied by a shake of their heads. Mrs. Beecher left the Court room with the Plymouth throng, and the Court room was then cleared of spectators.

Thus ended the great Tilton-Beecher scandal suit. The jurors for Tilton are said to be Jeffrey, Flate and Davis.

What Tilton Says.

Tilton says the result is a moral victory for him.

Moulton has a card in the Argus, saying the Tribune reported that he was to be arrested for subornation of perjury. He has come back and let them arrest him.

The Question of Arresting Moulton.

An inquiry being made of Col. Henry Barton Beecher, as to the truth or falsity of the report that Francis D. Moulton was to be arrested on the charges growing out of the developments in the Loeder-Price perjury case, he referred the inquirer to lawyer Shearman. The latter merely said, "Moulton is not in Brooklyn to be arrested. He is consulting with General Butler." When asked if Mr. Moulton was to be arrested, Mr. Shearman said the question was one he could not answer.

Mr. Beach has intimated that next week there will be a more earnest effort made to get at the bottom of the Loeder-Price conspiracy. He told Mr. Shearman on Wednesday that he would be called on to testify as to his connection with the case.

Frank Moulton's Card.

The following is Frank Moulton's card, previously alluded to:

To the Editor of the Argus:

SIR: The New York Tribune, a paper in the interest of Henry Ward Beecher, published this morning the following paragraph:

"The evidence of Joseph M. Pearsall in the Loeder case, reported in full elsewhere, so seriously implicates Frank D. Moulton in the manufacture of the false affidavits of Price and Loeder that the counsel for Mr. Beecher have already taken steps to indict him for conspiracy as well as subornation of perjury, and will make application to go before the next Grand Jury. If Mr. Moulton should return to Brooklyn before the Grand Jury meets, he will be arrested and an examination be had preliminary to action by the Grand Jury."

A judicial examination of the origin of the Price-Loeder affidavits, and of my connection with them, is exactly the thing I desire. Accordingly I have returned to Brooklyn to meet the menace of Mr. Beecher's minions, and I hereby challenge and defy them to institute their threatened proceedings.

(Signed) FRANCIS D. MOULTON,
BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 2, 1875.

Secrets of the Jury-room.

Notwithstanding the fact that all the jurors stated they had taken a solemn oath never to reveal the secrets of the jury-room, the following has been ascertained by interviewers: One juror said: We stand to-day precisely as we did when we went up stairs into the jury-room to deliberate eight days ago. Another juror stated that one time the jury stood eleven to one, again nine to three, and still later five to seven. There was an irreconcilable difference of opinion as to the credibility of the witnesses on each side. Juryman Hill said that at times the discussions were very animated. When the jury retired a week ago there was a small majority for the defendant, but after the evidence was received from Judge Neilson the result was to throw the benefit of a certain doubt in favor of the defendant.

Still another juror said that at one time the tide in favor of Tilton was pretty low. It was even less than three. At another time the jurors stood six to six.

A Union reporter learned from a semi-authoritative source that when the jury retired they stood seven to five, seven being for Beecher, four for Tilton, and one doubtful, though leaning to Tilton. This doubtful man subsequently came over to the Beecher side, and on the second ballot the jury stood eight to four, eight for Beecher and four for Tilton. When the evidence was requested and sent up to the jury one of the four went over to the Beecher side. On the final ballot they stood nine to three, nine for Beecher and three for Tilton.

The Eagle says: On Saturday morning a few of the Beecher men who had been using gigantic efforts to convert Jeffreys, Davis and Flate to their side had so far succeeded that these gentlemen at last consented to bring in a verdict for Mr. Beecher. Had the jury then been summoned to the Court room, Mr. Beecher would have gone forth with a declaration of his innocence by the twelve men sworn to decide on the charges against him by the evidence submitted and allowed by the Court during the trial. Some were in favor of going into Court at once, but unfortunately for Mr. Beecher, it was determined that they should delay their return to the Court room until eight o'clock that evening, when they would hand to the Presiding Judge a sealed verdict. At this moment of supreme importance one of the Beecher men made an indiscreet remark, which, though in no wise affecting the evidence in the case, occasioned a flutter of undue excitement, and had the effect of alienating the minority from the majority. Thus the work of many hours of tedious and conscientious argument was cheated of its result and a gloom thrown over the future deliberations of the jury, which could not be dispelled. Persistent efforts were made to counteract the result of this indiscretion, but the minority, consisting of Messrs. Jeffreys, Flate and Davis, retiring to the ground which they had compacted to abandon, emphatically declined to hold any further argument on the case. They were determined to stand by Tilton. On Sunday there was no balloting, as many of the jurymen had religious scruples and declined from doing so. The ballot, however, on Monday showed that they had returned to the Tilton side, as the vote stood nine for Beecher and three for Tilton, and from this count there was no variation. When they were discharged they stood in the same relation to the case, nine for Beecher and three for Tilton.

A Juryman that Could be Purchased.

Lawyer Shearman said to-day that the counsel for the defence had been visited several times by a friend of one man on the jury, who intimated that his verdict could be purchased.

A New Trial.

Mr. Shearman declined to state whether they would move for a new trial. A prevalent rumor is that the plaintiff's counsel will move for a new trial immediately by placing the case on the October calendar, and that as soon as it is called a motion will be made for a change of venue.

Beecher's Lecture Room "Talk."

The Plymouth lecture room was crowded to excess this evening by the brethren of the church. On the platform were seated the deacons of the church and Mr. Beecher's son, and the latter's wife. A small table on the platform was loaded down with floral boquets. When Mr. Beecher entered he was received with loud applause.

After a hymn had been sung brother Shearman led in prayer. He thanked God that when the bitter cup was presented to their beloved pastor they were able to partake of it with him.

After the congregation had sung another hymn Dr. White prayed at the request of Mr. Beecher. Throughout this prayer the latter sat with his elbow resting on the table and his face buried in his hands.

Another hymn followed, after which Mr. Beecher, still retaining his seat, began his talk by stating that he did not propose to say anything about that which touched all their hearts concerning himself, but that he would speak about the church, and before leaving for the Summer would say some words to them which were in his heart. There had been said a good many things about this church by persons who were ignorant of its workings. His own judgment, unwarped by passion, the fruit of years of acquaintance with it, was that by the blessing of God there had been brought into co-operation by labor in this church a body of people such as has rarely been paralleled, not defined in wisdom, but remarkable for individualism. As a church it had dwelt in unity, which had been the result of a religious feeling.

The Late Trial.

In referring to the late trial through which the church had passed, Mr. Beecher said he thanked the audience for their patience and consideration. Without any concerted action, this church had stood for two years with immense sympathy for their chosen head and pastor, and what they had done was spontaneous, and not ordered. This unity of the church in sorrow and affliction for two years was not from any arrangement between the parties, but from the indwelling spirit of God. They had passed through the Red Sea like the children of Israel, and were now on the other side, and the wheels of Pharaoh's chariots they could now see sticking in the mud. [Laughter.]

The speaker deprecated alienations between households, and invoked them not to break up the harmony of the church. Of all the saints he knew of, the worst were like Shimis. There were enough of these in the editorial chairs and the pulpits. God had not baptized him for nothing, but was preparing him for a work, though he did not yet know what it was. They were being consecrated for a great mission, and God had comforted them by the way. He felt this church was consecrated for some great work, and they were to be employed to unsteel hard hearts and make holiness not a myth, not a poem, but a reality. Let them, therefore, rejoice, as God was leading them step by step to Zion.

The Indictments Against Tweed.

This afternoon Judge Bradley handed in an opinion conveying his decision on David Dudley Field's motion to quash the indictments against William M. Tweed. He denies the motion except as regards two indictments, which it was conceded at the argument are superceded, and says the objections raised should be made, if at all, on a plea, not a motion to quash.

The Ladies' Dress Goods Bazaar.

The attention of ladies and all others whom it may concern, is called to the reputable dress goods house of Messrs. Moorhouse & Carsten, corner of Market street and Fourth avenue, as they have received an unusually elegant and fashionable selection of the latest styles of dress goods. Their stock is large, beautiful in pattern, colors and finish, and is new. To make mention of their goods in detail would convey but a faint idea of their beauty and elegance, as they must be seen to be appreciated, but notice should be made of their extra good and very handsome Black, Seal, Brown, Colored, Checked and Striped Silks, which are offered at extremely low prices. Their Black Hernanis, Plaid and Brocade Grenadines of the latest styles and most desirable patterns, Pongees, Mohairs, Debeges, Cashmeres, Alpacas, &c., of durable texture and superb finish. A WHITE MAN in Washington sues a colored hotel-keeper for a refusal to accommodate him with quarters in his house. The colored man declares he will entertain no white man. Queer.

WE print in another column a communication from James I. Earle—Clerk of the steamer Western—in which he replies to the charges made by the Allegheny Mail against himself and the firm of S. B. Coulson & Co.

MORE arrests of Democratic officials are reported from Cincinnati, growing out of the water works troubles, and now the same difficulty is reported as breaking out among the Democratic guardians of the aquarius in Corry. Water is beginning to give the public as much anxiety as a stronger fluid has always done.

THE great scandal trial is at last ended. The jury, having failed to agree, have been discharged. They are reported as standing nine for acquittal and three for conviction. The verdict may be considered as favoring Beecher, he having the majority. But, after all, one might ask with great propriety, What has been gained by the long, protracted and revolting suit? Has Tilton, Beecher or society improved any through the serio-farcial drama thus far enacted? We apprehend the public will be as much divided as ever on the subject, and no verdict of any jury will change opinion.

A WAR VESSEL for the Haytien Republic was launched a day or so ago at Philadelphia, and is spoken of in the highest terms as a fine piece of workmanship. Her dimensions are as follows: Length 160 feet; beam 31 feet 6 inches; depth of hold 14 feet; capacity 700 tons. Her armament will consist of an 11-inch Rodman gun amidships, two 30-pounder Parrot rifled guns at each end, and two broadside 32-pounder smooth bores on deck. Her draught is not mentioned; but we see no reason why Pittsburgh should not enter into competition in this class of workmanship. Is it for want of skill and energy that we do not?

THE Philadelphia North American thinks there is no more use now in attempting to inform the European press on American matters than there was during the rebellion. They will persistently misrepresent the average sentiment of this country, owing not so much through any desire to do so, as to their uniform custom of looking to the New York papers exclusively for their American information and sentiment. This the North American thinks a great mistake, in which we join it, and it adds: "The journalism of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago is distinct, peculiar, strongly marked, and taken together, expresses the average American sentiment. But these papers are not read in England, and the stuff that appears in the New York press is accepted as the news of the day from all America."

THE visit of Admiral Worden, with his fleet, to German waters, is attended with the most satisfactory and happy results. The utmost cordiality and civility is shown him wherever he goes, and our flag is greeted in every harbor with demonstrations of warm friendship and whole-souled joy. Between the German Empire and ourselves there is, we are glad to say, and there ever ought to remain, the warmest alliance, and the closest tie of affection that can exist between two nations, wholly distinct in character, as nations. With no rivalship of any character, with nearest and dearest of all attachments upon earth existing among so many of the two people, with a common religi[illegible] a common [illegible] in civilization and [illegible] of estrangement ought [illegible]shed, and mutual joys and mu[illegible]accesses should be mutually greeted. [illegible] are glad, therefore, that the Admiral has visited Germany—glad that he has been so well received, glad that our flag has been so warmly cheered, and glad that a promise of a return visit has been made to our shores during our Centennial year, when an opportunity will be given to return the cordial greetings of which our squadron has been the recipients.

MR. TILTON's lawyers have placed themselves in rather an unenviable light before the country, in their effort to present to the jury the testimony of the two conspirators, Loader and Price, and their honesty in the transaction is seriously questioned by the New York press. The Tribune has this to say about the affair:

"Loader and Price might have lied till Christmas without doing any harm if Mr. Morris and Mr. Beach had not taken them by the hand and introduced them to the court as respectable persons entitled to belief. The two wretched conspirators made up a monstrous falsehood which fell to pieces so quickly when it was subjected to the slightest examination that they were obliged to confess the imposture; but Mr. Beach and Mr. Morris took the responsibility of submitting that falsehood to the court as truth and practically of putting it before the jury for the sake of affecting their decision in a momentous issue.

* * * * * * *

"It does not become the counsel who have represented the plaintiff in this trial to speak of precedents and rules; but we are not arguing that the doors of the jury-room should be opened. Our only purpose is to exhibit Messrs. Beach and Morris in the predicament of their own contriving, as a warning to young practitioners. Over-smart lawyers, above all other men, ought to be careful."

The general impression is that these over-zealous attorneys could have easily ascertained, if they did not already know, that Loader and Price were imposters and black-mailers.

IT IS announced that the leading trunk roads are soon to have a general meeting, at which the new schedule of passenger and freight rates is to be adopted, and immediately after go into operation. It is thought, in fact it is charged, that these rates are to be considerably higher than those at present existing, not only, but may probably exceed the tariff which stood so long anterior to the recent war. We earnestly hope this may not prove true, as we would consider it the worst possible policy on the part of the combination, which would tend to lessen the travel greatly, and at the same time make its purposes obnoxious to the public. What is wanted by the railway people, is a tariff of rates adjusted so fairly, that proper revenue will result to the roads, and at the same time the industries of the country will not be hampered. This surely will prove the best policy all around; and anything like a grab on the part of the great lines, because they have the power within their own hands, and in order to make up for recent losses, caused by the senseless war among themselves, will meet with the indignant condemnation of the public. On behalf of the farmers, whose produce seeks but an indifferent market at best, of our manufacturers, whose business affairs are not near satisfactory and give little promise of an early improvement, we enter an earnest protest that this is no time to be raising rates beyond those established and adjusted with due regard to efficiency of service on the one hand, and of profitable employment of our labor, capital and skill on the other.

THE Eastern University of this State, situated in Philadelphia, is a grand institution, and one in which the people of the Quaker City take great pride. It has grown vastly in a few years, and increased its facilities to such an extent that it is now ranked by all classes as one of the first institutions in the country. Its hospital, medical directory and staff are considered by the fraternity as the most complete of any in this country, or perhaps in the world. The College has been the recipient of numerous benefactions of late years, and it is our pleasure to record another. A Mr. Flower, of Delaware county, recently deceased, has made it the residuary legatee to his large estate, and the amount coming to the University from this source is found to be about $200,000. It is provided in the will that this sum be appropriated toward the erection in Fairmount Park, or at the late home of the devisor, at Darby, of an astronomical observatory, and maintaining an efficient corps of Professors. The proposed structure will, without doubt, be erected on some one of the beautiful hill-tops in the Park, and will fill the double purpose of an attractive and ornamental building, and a scientific school of first-class appointments. The fund above mentioned will be ample, it is thought, to carry out the completed plans of the benefactor and add vastly to the attractiveness of the University.

THE INSURANCE case reported yesterday, in which it was held that an agent of an Insurance Company has no right to make an engagement for closing a risk on a building, without first consulting the other officers of the company, is one of great public importance, inasmuch as the decision is not in accordance with the custom prevailing. Had the buildings, insured by agreement of the agent with the rate fixed and contract closed, as we understand it, not burned the same night the agent made the bargain, the subsequent refusal of the company to confirm the act of their agent would have made no material difference to the owner of the burned buildings. But when he closed the contract for insurance with the company's agent, he thought and was led to believe, we presume, that his property was secure, and went home and slept. In the morning, after the buildings were entirely destroyed by fire, he was informed that the company refused the risk, and the agent exceeded his authority. We do not wish to comment on the facts and theories of this case further; our sole purpose in mentioning it, is to bring to notice the fact which all interested should know, viz: that by this decision an agent is wholly powerless to close a contract for insurance, and the safe way is to have a policy of insurance before closing your eyes in blissful sleep. We will only add, that we do not think the fire, in this case, had anything to do, whatever, with the refusal of the company to take the risk assumed by the agent, as a personal acquaintance with all the parties forbids such an unjust imputation; neither do we doubt that the owner of the lost property thought himself insured, and in this was misled by the agent of the company. It is always the wise plan to go to the office, pay your money and get a policy of insurance which admits of no misunderstandings.

THE POSTOFFICE.

The recent trip through the country by Postmaster General Jewell, has afforded that gentleman a good opportunity of looking into the present methods of conducting the minutiæ of the Department, and opened his eyes to the manifest need of several practical changes, which are in the nature of reforms. The old style mail-coach, which formerly dashed along the road, drawn by its four foaming chargers, with a skillful and delighted Jehu for their driver, is almost wholly discarded and out of use, having had its day of glory and renown. Its place is supplied with the swift railway or steamboat, and on those routes where neither of these methods of transportation is to be had, the humble mail wagon is brought into use, or the still more dilapidated looking mail rider.

In nothing more than this is our progress, as a nation, marked, and the time occupied in the transmission of letters from one part of the country to another, is a marvel. The delivery of our mails, now, has become so regular and meets with so few disturbances that it is looked upon as something almost remarkable when any delay occurs. And when we think of the vast magnitude of the business done in our postoffices, of the thousands of tons of mail matter daily handled over and over again, folded into bundles, tied and locked up into packages, carted and rehandled by the expressmen and road messengers—work going on at all hours of the day and night—is it not a wonder that such regularity and promptness is attained? When it is stated that the mail agents west of the Alleghenies, on the postal cars alone, assort over forty million letters a month; that on these same routes and cars over twenty-five tons of mail matter pass daily; and that the transfer of mails in the single city of Chicago approximates one hundred tones each day, some idea of the magnitude of the Postoffice Department transactions can be formed. With these facts before us, the ten thousand postal routes throughout the country, with all their vast business, the army of agents and their necessity for working promptly and systematically together can, in a measure, be comprehended, and the duty devolving on the head of the vast Department be realized. Progress in this, like all other things, is the result of close study, careful management, and watching over the details, and all the little minutiæ that go to make up the entire colossal volume. The man at the head of the Department must, of course, largely depend upon his subordinates for the proper execution of his orders and the regulations of the office; but in all things connected with the intricate system, from the building of a new postoffice, down to the printing of the postal cards, from the contract made with the great ocean steamers, or the railway company for the transportation of thousands of tons of mail matter annually, down to the employment of the humblest postboy in a remote and sparsely settled backwoods district, he must make himself thoroughly familiar, if he would prove a success in controlling his wonderful department.

It is, therefore, not to be wondered at, that Postmaster General Jewell,—whose reputation for thoroughness and masterly activity, for watchful vigor and completeness in handling all the intricate details of his office, is well-known and admitted by all,—should visit the hundreds of postoffices throught the country and personally look into the workings of their various departments, with the purpose of recommending to Congress, in his annual message, any important changes found necessary, and adopting such reforms as are suggested to him. It exhibits, on his part, a commendable care and diligence in the discharge of his duties, which are characteristic of the man. Under his administration we may look for the very best service in this important branch of our Government and not be disappointed.

When to Buy Sheep.

As a rule, the best time to buy is in the late summer—as flockmasters who have kept their sheep through the winter prefer to shear them before selling. It is usually most profitable to do so. After the first to the middle of August, the lambs are ready for weaning, and the farmer knows pretty well what the increase of his flock is to be, and also what his crops of grain and grasses will allow him to winter properly. The season's yield at home also affords the buyer a better opportunity for gauging the number of stock to suit the probable contents of barn and granary. Ordinarily, where one seller of store sheep can be found in the spring, ten can be found in the late summer or fall.—National Live Stock Journal.

ROBERT DALE OWEN, who is now seventy-one, is reported to be insane. Whether or not his ardent espousal of spiritualistic theories has contributed to this sad result we are not informed. Like his father, Mr. Owen began by denying the existence of a spiritual world, and in later years gravitated to the opposite extreme.

A ROMANTIC story comes from New Orleans concerning one Mr. Harmon Jones. Mr. Jones was taken with the gold fever in '49, and set out for California. The vessel in which he sailed was never heard from; and of course it was supposed that all on board, including Jones, had perished. His widow still lives and is still a widow, that is to say she is still Mrs. Jones, but not a widow, for there's just where the romance comes in. An English vessel cruising in the Pacific, lately, discovered an island hitherto unknown, and on it several Americans who had been there twenty-six years, among them Mr. Harmon Jones, formerly of New Orleans. The family are preparing to rescue him from his long exile and bring him home. He ought to be able to write a book as good as Robinson Crusoe.—Boston Globe.

IT IS estimated that the destruction of property by inundations in the southwestern portion of France will amount to 300,000,000 francs. The number of persons who perished is estimated at 3,000. President MacMahon continues his tour through the inundated districts.

PRIVATE advices from the Black Hills expedition show that the investigations are proving the country to be richer in gold than has heretofore been supposed. The earth down to the bed rock in every direction is filled with particles, and the quartz shows rich veins. These advices are from responsible official sources.

ALL business requiring attention at banks on Monday, the 5th inst., must be attended to on Saturday, the 3rd inst., the ceremonies due to 4th as a holiday being observed, according to law, on Monday, the 5th, when all the banks and public offices will be closed and all business be suspended, this ever being the most generally observed of all our holidays.

A NUMBER of German ecclesiastics and others who had been driven out of the German empire by the operation of the Falk law, arrived in New York, and started for Tentopolis, Ill., where they expect to find an asylum in the Catholic religious institutions in that city. Among them are twelve priests, sixty ecclesiastical students and fifteen females of different religious orders.

A NEW trick has been devised for the advertisement of patent mowing and reaping machines. All the agents in a certain range of territory club together, after a good day of sales, give a grand dinner to the buyers, and arrange a procession through the principal streets of a large town, in which the sold machines play an important part. In places where it has been tried, the plan is said to attract as great a crowd as a circus.

THE assessors' report of the valuation of the real and personal estate of the State of New York, just made, and which is to be the basis of the next year's tax, shows an increase over the last previous valuation of a little less than $200,000,000. This is the largest increase ever known in that State. In Lewis county the increase is 174 per cent., and in Schuyler it reaches 212 per cent. There will be many speculations as to the causes of this apparent accretion to the wealth of the State.

THE receipts of Internal Revenue for the first nine months of the current fiscal year—July 1st, 1874, to March 31st, 1875—show a large increase over the corresponding period of last year. The total is $82,087,670, compared with $72,861,986 for the previous year. There is an increase of over nine millions, every source of revenue showing a larger yield excepting the tax on ale and beer, where there is a falling off of about $235,000. These returns indicate about $110,000,000 income from internal revenue for the fiscal year that is about closing.

HINT FOR THE FOURTH.

Banish the Fire-Cracker and the Conflagration.

Some artists and other good citizens have proposed a plan for the celebration of the Fourth of July which promises to banish by quick degrees the fire-cracker and the conflagration. It is the usual form of public demonstration in Southern Europe, where on festival days gay draperies are hung from the windows, and at night almost every house is illuminated. The appearance of the house fronts, with bright colored tapestries and lambrequins floating from the window-sills, is thus described in a circular letter which we have just received:

The effect upon the city is indescribably beautiful. Each house looks as gay as a country fair, and every street is transformed into a blooming garden of brilliant tints, reaching upward fifty feet or more; a blaze of color extending as far as the eye can reach. In Italy and Spain every family on the great thoroughfares is provided with drapery specially for the purpose, which is displayed on all occasions of public rejoicing. It consists of an oblong piece of cloth, of crimson or other rich dark color, with a broad border of yellow silk, or a line of gold lace round it, a few inches from the edge. This is hung over the window sill or balcony, so as to fall two or three feet below the edge; a very wide window or balcony requiring, of course, a longer "apron" than a narrow one. In Rome the apron is usually of crimson satin, or damask, with broad border of yellow silk or tinsel. The material is never new; it is evidently made of old curtains or bits of party dresses sewed together, and is always very much patched; but that does not injure the effect. The richness of the material and color are never seen to better advantage, and the eye is so impressed by the general effect that it cannot fix itself upon small imperfections in the substance, provided the material is all rich in quality and harmonious in colors. The Romans and Spaniards also use for the same purpose tapestries and bright rugs and squares and of plain cloth with brilliant borders, but the favorite decoration is that first described. It is the cheapest, for it utilizes the bits of old finery which are too good to throw to the rag-man, and too shabby for use.

The scheme is entirely feasible, and although there is not time to make ready a general decoration for this year, a large number of householders have the material at hand, and we learn that in several of the up-town streets extensive preparations have already been made. Let some of our principal citizens set the example next Monday, and in 1876 the whole city may burst into bloom. About the illumination of course there is no difficulty. Paper lanterns are cheap and abundant, and they can be so arranged as to produce a very pleasing effect. One or two candles, besides, in each window-pane, will work wonders.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE MISSOURI TRANSPORTATION CONTRACT.

Letter From James I. Earl, Late Clerk of the Steamer Far West—He Explains the "Big Steal of Indian Goods" Alleged to Have Taken Place on that Steamboat in 1871.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

BISMARCK, D. T., June 18, 1875.

The steamer Western left Yankton Tuesday, June 8th, 7:30 P. M. Lay all night in Right-hand Bend above Yankton, and took on 24,000 brick. Left at daylight June 9th, with 372 tons freight for the different military posts and agencies. June 10th, Nellie Peck and Benton passed down while we were discharging freight at Fort Randall. June 12th met steamer Carroll at Dry Point. June 13th met E. H. Durfee at Farm Island. June 14th, met Jno. M. Chambers below Paschases Island. Arrived at Bismarck June 16th, at 3:15 P. M., making good time. River rising all the way up. Boats in port, May Lowry, Ida Stockdale and Key West.

On our arrival here I was handed a copy of the Allegheny Evening Mail of June 10th, in the river column of which appears an article denouncing me as a liar and scoundrel, for some information I gave on our return to Yankton last trip, concerning the late accident that happened to the steamer Fontenelle. I take the earliest opportunity I have had to reply to it. I presume it was written by Wm. J. Kountz, and I will not allow Kountz or any one else to make such a cowardly attack on me during my absence from home, and I not defend myself. Justice demands me to reply. The information I gave concerning the accident was received from his own son, A. J. Kountz, who was one of the pilots on the boat at the time the accident occurred. He came down passenger on the E. H. Durfee, claimed he came down for carpenters and lumber, and they talked of sending the May Lowry to take her cargo. He reported the boat in a bad condition, with her bow stove in, chains parted, and that she was run in the mud, aground: and that she took considerable water in the hold, and he says here to-day that they had twenty-two men baling water out of her to keep it down, so she must have had considerable water in her. Now, if there have been any lies told about the accident, his own son and one of the pilots on the injured boat are responsible for them—not me. I can prove by any number of reliable people here that such is the report he brought here. The officers of the steamer E. H. Durfee reported her in bad shape, aground in very shoal water, and if the river fell it would leave her high and dry. Capt. William Braithwaite, Superintendent of the Kountz Line at this place, and I believe a part owner of the steamer Fontenelle, in conversation with Captain W. R. Massie, of the steamer Western, reported her sunk, and I believe also said that she had not been inspected, and they had some conversation in regard to who would be responsible in case the cargo was lost or damaged. In regard to her inspection and license, I know nothing about them, and care less. I am not a United States officer, but that matter can be easily settled. If she was licensed and inspected it will appear on the record at the Custom House, open to general inspection. I told the tale as it was told to me; in fact did not report it as bad as his own officers did, so if there has been a series of lies reported he now knows who is responsible for them.

He also charges that I, in connection with Capt. S. B. Coulson, in the year 1871, while I was Clerk of the steamer Far West, assisted to procure receipts for the carrying of Indian goods that the boat was not entitled. I challenge and defy him to prove the charge he has made against me. Unless he can do this, it will recoil on himself. I therefore call on Wm. J. Kountz, or whoever the author may be, to prove what he has charged against me. The Far West transported every package her bills of lading called for to Grand River Agency, and she was justly entitled to receipts and pay for it. If there was any change made in the disposition of a portion of her cargo after it arrived at Grand River, it was done by those supposed to have the authority to make that change, and for which I am in no way responsible, or had any connection with whatever. And it had nothing to do with my getting receipts for the goods taken to Grand River Agency. And I now call on Wm. J. Kountz, or whomsoever wrote the article in the Evening Mail, to prove that I ever got receipts, or assisted to get receipts, for any Indian goods, or any other kind of goods, while clerk on the Far West, or any other boat, that the boat was not justly entitled to, and to be paid for transporting, and all done by orders of those supposed to have authority to transport the goods, both military and Indian. Let the matter be investigated and probed to the bottom at once. If there is anything wrong, or frauds committed, the boat and officers are not responsible for them, nor are they in any way connected with it. Why not have the matter brought before the President, Secretary of War, Indian Commissioner, or a Committee of Citizens, a Military Commission of officers of the army or any other committee, or any court of justice in the United States, and there let the author of these charges prove them, if he can. I challenge an investigation. All my work on the Far West is open for inspection to the world, and I hold myself in readiness, and I am willing, and have always been, if called on, to testify, as far as I know, in regard to any and all transactions that took place on the Far West while I was clerk on her. In the year 1869, when I was clerk on his boat Peninah, we took a trip for the same parties that had the transportation contract for Indian goods in 1871. Among the goods we took were 20 or 25 tons marked for Grand River. We were ordered by these same parties not to put the goods off there, but to take them on to Fort Rice, which we did, and delivered to the agents there. I never questioned their authority to order the goods there. Why don't Kountz accuse me of that and charge me with being engaged in a fraudulent transaction? He knew about us carrying the goods that much farther up the river, as I wrote him from St. Louis, when the parties claimed a reduction in the contract price agreed to transport the trip, on account of the steamer Ackley taking a portion of the freight from where their boat broke her shaft to Fort Sully. Probably it was all right when it was done on his own boat. He got the money for carrying the goods. It is also charged that I have been employed by Coulson since 1871 "to do his dirty work." This charge is most flagitious and false. I know of no dirty work to be done, and have never been asked by the owners of this boat, my employers, to do anything but the duties belonging to my position as clerk of the boat. I am sorry I can't say as much for my accuser when I was employed by him. He also says: "I suppose he was doing the bidding of his master. Poor devil!" I acknowledge but one living man my master—my father. I admit I am poor, but I am content with my lot. I consider myself his peer, at most anything he chooses. I am willing to place my record by the side of his, and I believe it will compare favorably with his. He has taken advantage of my absence from home to assail me and stab me behind my back in the columns of his own paper, when he dares not do it to my face. No person with an honest conscience would be guilty of it. He has made these charges against me. I now call on him for the proofs. If he don't furnish them, let him be set down as a vile slanderer for all time to come. Truly yours,

JAS. I. EARLE,
Clerk steamer "Western."

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July 3, 1875.

Another dull day in business circles was the verdict of all business men yesterday. The announcement in yesterday's GAZETTE that the stockholders of the Nation Trust Co. had filed a petition in bankruptcy created quite a flutter in the early part of the day, but those well posted in financial circles paid little attention to it, as they have been expecting it for some time. The numerous suits brought daily, by the depositors, compelled these stockholders to do something, and as a last resort they decided on filing their petition. The costs on several suits brought amounts, in many cases, to as much as the claim, and with the dullness of trade, it became a matter of necessity to take this step. We do not think any depositor will lose by it, but it will give the stockholders time to turn around, and not be continually harrassed by their creditors.

There is an abundance of money for this, the dull season of the year, but parties holding it, as well as banks, will not let it out unless the very best security is given. We know where money has been offered at seven per cent., but it was to parties whose paper is never found floating on the market. In the course of a few days the payment of July bills will be in order, and if all will unite and pay their small bills promptly it will do more to help on the semi-annual settlements and benefit trade in general, than any other one thing that can be done. Too many put off paying their bills when called on, using as a pretext that they cannot collect their bills. Let all pay on demand and start money afloat.

Bank stocks are still on the decline, and unless business revives, and soon, too, we predict they will still be lower.

NEW YORK, July 2, 1875.

Money was easy at 2a3. Sterling was quiet at 486½a487 for sixty day and 489½a490 for sight. The customs receipts were $355,000. The dry goods imports for the week were $1,055,847. Gold opened at 117 and closed at 117⅛. The carrying rates were 1a3. Loans were also made flat. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $877,000. The clearings were $30,000,000. Government and railroad bonds are firm. State securities are quiet, except Tennessees, which are lower.

Wall street markets generally were quiet to-day, as usual just preceding a national holiday. The attendance in financial circles was rather slim. Stocks opened in the main strong and higher. At the opening Lake Shore was depressed from 59 to 57½, but quickly recovered to 58½. Pacific Mail advanced from 40½ to 40¾. Western Union from 79 to 80. Northwest from 38½ to 39, St. Paul from 53½ to 54½, and Erie from 14½ to 14¾. At the final close stocks were a little off from the highest point, and closed steady at the decline. Lake Shore was firm, and sold at 58¼a58⅜. One of the leading Vanderbilt brokers was a heavy buyer of this stock to-day. The more confident feeling in regard to Lake Shore in late dealings arose out of the growing impression that the road has seen the worst, and that a large short interest exists in the stock. Erie was firm, and advanced to 15⅛, closing at 14⅞. Northwest was strong at 38½a39, and St. Paul at 33¾a34, on the prospects of large crops in the Northwestern States. Investment shares were firm and the offerings light.

The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 160,000 shares, of which 20,000 were Pacific Mail, 37,000 Western Union, 9,000 Erie, 77,000 Lake Shore, and 4,000 Union Pacific.

The Tennessee Cattle Trade.

A Nashville exchange says: We have heretofore alluded to the largely increased shipments of cattle over the Louisville and Nashville road to points east. That the trade is ultimately to assume still greater proportions, there is not the least doubt. It only needs to be fostered by our farmers to a much greater degree in order to its very decided advancement. Previous to this season, very few head of cattle were shipped out of Nashville, though we have had advantages in the way of raising them that are not surpassed by any other section of the Union. During the months of January and February 218 car loads, and from March 1 to June 28, 100 car loads of cattle were shipped North from Nashville, making a total of 321 car loads, or 7,062 head. From May 27 to June 29, twenty-seven car loads of lambs were sent to Louisville, Cincinnati, and New York. Each car will carry an average of 220 lambs, so that there were 5,940 lambs shipped within the last month. These, at $3.50 per head, aggregate the sum of $20,849.40. The traffic in lambs has thus pretty fairly been developed. Now that the dog law has gone into full operation, it would seem that there ought to be no difficulty in raising sheep for the New York and other markets.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The cargo market was again quiet and easy. A good many sales were made in the course of the day, but lumber was constantly arriving, and as fast as a vessel was moved away another was ready to take its place, so that at the close about as many cargoes were on the market as in the morning, and apparently little was done. However, the cargoes sold slowly, for buyers held back as long as they thought there was a shadow of a chance to get a concession. Yard prices are so low that there is little or no margin in buying cargoes at current prices, hence the local dealers are purchasing only what they require to keep up assortments from day to day, and as stated this morning some are believed to have entered into one of their favorite combination schemes by which they hope to break the market eventually. Piece stuff sold at $7.65@8, the outside for straight cargoes of Manistee. Boards and strips were quoted at $7@14, as to quality; lath at $1.50, and shingles at $2.60@2.68. No sales were made public.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 2, 1875.

The general merchandise markets continue very dull, and our merchants generally do not expect any very decided change for the better until after harvest. An eastern exchange, speaking of business prospects there, remarks: "There is no special activity to note in any department of trade. No one will venture to buy beyond the closest current need. There is but one assurance that gives hope for the future, and that is, existing stocks are steadily reducing, and must eventually, and not very remotely, touch bottom, when the actual needs for consumption will increase production to be followed by higher prices and more demand for money."

APPLES—The supply of green Apples is small, but equal to the demand; selling at $3@5 ₩ bbl, as to quality and condition.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ₩ gallon.

BERRIES—Strawberries will soon be out of season; sold to-day at 10@15, as to quality and condition. Raspberries, of which the receipts are increasing, 15@18c ₩ quart.

BROOM CORN—The market here continues quiet, and devoid of anything new or important. A Chicago report, under date of the 1st inst., quotes as follows:—11½ to 12½ for No 1 hurl; and 13 to 14 for extra do. Such as can be worked into a choice hurl broom quotable at 11½ to 12½: good do, 9½ to 10; good to choice stalk braid, 11 to 13c; inferior brush, 9@10, and crooked, 6 to 8½ cents.

BUTTER—Continues quiet, with a supply considerably in excess of present requirements, but prices remain as last quoted. Prime to choice solid packed, 15@17.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged. Mediums, $1,80 to $1,85 per bush, and Navies, $1,90 to $2.

CHEESE—The general tone of the market continues offish, but in view of the light receipts, prices are still maintained; prime Ohio Factory, 11 @11½ in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet; Apples, 7½@8½. Peaches, halves, 10@10½.

EGGS—The market continues steady, with a demand pretty well up to the supply, and prices are sustained; 15 to 19 cents for fresh, guaranteed as such.

FLOUR—Quiet and unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $5,75@6,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; winters, $6.25 to $6.50 for red, and $6.75@7 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $6,00@6.25.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade continues very quiet, and we do not look for any improvement until after harvest. Coffee is firm with every indication at this writing of an advance. Refined Sugars are firm, while Raws are dull and weak. Molasses, notwithstanding the supply in this market is light, continues dull; and the same is true of Syrups.

HAY—The market for baled continues very dull, but there has been no recent change in prices; prairie, $17 to $19; timothy, $20 to $22.

GRAIN—The grain markets have been exceedingly dull for a week or more past; hence, notwithstanding light receipts and reduced stocks, prices are barely maintained. A Chicago exchange of Thursday, says: "It is understood here that a combination of strong parties are controlling the grain markets, and that orders from Europe are being received and quietly filled in this market. The fact that heavy operators are willing to readily exchange cash grain for July contracts also inspires confidence in a general way. The wheat harvest is a little backward this season, owing to the cold weather during the spring months, and some parties anticipate that the heavy receipts will arrive later than usual." The Oat market continues dull but unchanged: mixed, 62@63; white, 64. There is some inquiry for Ear Corn, and the supply is light; quotable on track at 75@77, as to quality. Shelled continues dull and nominal at 76@78 free in elevator. Penna. and Ohio Wheat, $1,25@1,28 for red, and 3@5 cents additional for amber and white. Rye, $1,12@1,15.

POTATOES, ETC., ETC.—The market continues overstocked with new Potatoes, and old stock has suffered a decline in consequence; former selling at $2 to $3 ₩ barrel; Cabbages, $2 to $2,50 ₩ barrel; String Beans, $2 to $2.50; Onions, $1 ₩ box; Cucumbers, $1,25 to $1.50 ₩ box.

PROVISIONS—The market continues fairly active, but prices remain unchanged. A Chicago report, under date of Thursday, says, in regard to the market: "The trading here was, however, chiefly in changing over from one month to another at the current differences, and, so long as these differences were maintained, it mattered little to most of the parties what the cash basis of the trade might be. Hence the speculative transactions could scarcely be regarded as a close gauge of the prices that must have been paid for cash lots. There was do pressure to sell. We note that orders for meats are on the increase, especially on Southern account, but the limits are generally below the views of holders, who are few in number and not anxious to sell, as stocks are light, and the supply of summer-cured product is expected to slacken up speedily—that is, if we have any hot weather this summer.

PITTSBURGH IRON TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July, 2 1875.

PIG IRON.

Business has been comparatively quiet since the date of our last report, as it nearly always is at this particular time, when it is customary for the mills to shut down for a few weeks to take stock and make repairs, and no immediate improvement can reasonably be expected. The general outlook is not regarded as favorable to the producing interest as it was a month ago, for which there are various reasons. Manufacturers report, in addition to orders for the product slacking off, that current rates afford little or no margin for profit, and consequently they cannot see their way clear to pay any advance for the raw article. The future of the market for pig iron depends a good deal upon the action of the mills; if they continue to buy just as their wants require, it is not likely that prices can be advanced; but if, on the other hand, they should, as is not unfrequently the case, contract for a three to four months supply, an advance is regarded as almost certain. Thus the matter stands at the present writing, and the probability is, judging from the present condition of trade, that the hand-to-mouth policy will be pretty closely adhered to. Twenty-four dollars, 4 mos may still be considered as the ruling price for good mill irons, and as yet the mills have been able to obtain all they wanted for present consumption at the price in question. Foundry irons continue very dull. Following sales were reported.

MANUFACTURED IRON.

Manufacturers very generally continue to report trade in finished iron very unsatisfactory, and while they are hopeful of an early improvement, the indications at present are not regarded as very encouraging. Orders continue to fall off, as they usually do at this particular time: as noted in our report of last week, a number of the mills have recently changed from double to single turn, and a pretty general suspension during the first half of this month is probable in order to take stock and make repairs. Quotations are still made at 2.25@2.30, Pittsburgh, and 2.35@2.40, eastern classification.

NAILS.

The Nail trade is very generally reported dull, as it always is at this season of the year, and no decided improvement is expected before next month. Stocks, however, are light, and prices are still maintained; $3, 60 days, with the usual discount of 2 ₩ cent. for cash.

SCRAP IRON.

The Scrap trade, both in iron and steel, continues very dull, but prices are nominally unchanged. No. 1 wrought scrap iron, $32@33, 4 mos, delivered free at mills.

BRITISH IRON MARKET.

A cable dispatch to the Iron Age, under date of June 20th, says:—Scotch Pig.—During the week the quotations for makers' Irons have gone up several shilling ₩ ton over the figures last cabled, and the market is now firm at the rise, apparently owing to a genuine shipping demand, the returns for last week showing a very large increase over the corresponding period of last year. The following are makers' quotations:

Gartsherrie No. 1 ... 68s
Coltness No. 1 ... 69s
Glengarnock No. 1 ... 68s 6d
Eglinton No. 1 ... 62s

Manufactured iron continues unchanged. Rails.—A fair business is doing under an improving demand, although prices remain weak. Welsh are quoted £6 10s@£6 15s.

NEW YORK.

American Pig.—We find in some quarters a slightly more cheerful feeling, and an impression that the market is likely to improve. These views are not, however, at all general, and the state of affairs seems much as it was last week. There is a steady demand in a small way for Iron for consumption, but it is generally conceded that stocks are increasing. It should be borne in mind however, that this is usually the dullest season of the year. If the demand should materially increase by September, say, it is not unlikely that a slight advance would take place, but it could not be much, as higher prices would cause the blowing-in of furnaces now idle. As has for some time been the case, the stronger companies are holding firmly to $28 and $26 for No. 1 and No. 2 Foundry, while other sellers make concessions. We quote No. 1 Foundry, $27@28; No. 2 Foundry, $25@26; Gray Forge, $23@25.—Iron Age.

PHILADELPHIA.

The market presents no change since my last, unless it be that there are fewer transactions and more inquiry as to prices, resulting in no business. Prices are quotably as before, but the shading that is done to effect sales is sufficient to justify a quotation of a full dollar less all round in Pig Metal. There seems to be a disposition among furnace men to increase production since coal is more plentiful, and it is presumable that a better demand for Iron will shortly appear. Although there are now no large stocks of Pig Metal on hand, all reports to the contrary, notwithstanding there very soon will be if production is increased by one-half or one-third the stacks now idle. Manufactured irons are as quiet as ever, and Pig Bars especially being very dull, while Rails, although there are many inquiries, move very slowly. The Steel Rail trade is probably the best line now in the business, as all the works are busy on good orders, and some with enough to fill the remainder of the year. Old Rails are quiet, with small sales at last week's figures. Scrap is in fair demand, and some lots have lately arrived from England for this market, which will leave a margin to shippers. The general tone of the market is weak, and there is nothing in the near future to indicate the probability of any change for the better. Prices continue as follows, nominally, but actually $1 ₩ ton less will buy, and in some instances even a greater reduction:

PIG METAL.—No. 1 Foundry, $27; No. 2, $26; Gray Forge, $24@25.

MANUFACTURED IRON.—Bars.—2.6c to 2.8c per pound.

RAILS.—$48@50.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 2, 1875.

A steadier market prevails to-day in both Crude and refined. Sellers are scarce at the current prices, believing the low figures which prevailed during the past week were occasioned by a bear movement. Titusville, it is said, sold "short" considerable cheap refined oil, and in order to cover, a vigorous effort has been made to break the crude oil market. Other points except Pittsburgh, also sold large quantities of cheap refined. The supposition is those sales were made in anticipation of dollar crude, as the price at the time did not justify the refiner with parting with his product at the prices obtained. In view of the fact that a large amount of crude oil will be required for the balance of the year, and that the daily movement of crude from the Oil Region is in excess of the production, producers and tankers are not forcing oil on the market, but feel confident of better prices in the near future. Crude at the wells yesterday sold from $1 to $1.02¼, and for immediate shipment on cars, $1,27½ to $1.30. The sales aggregated 42,500 bbls. To-day $1,27½ bid, and $1.30 asked for shipment. Refined a trifle firmer, with 9¼c bid for Baltimore, without finding buyers. Philadelphia delivery steady; 12c is bid, and 12⅛ asked. No futures are offering.

Oil barrels dull; cities, $1,30; countries, $1,15.

GEO. H. ROHE, Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE river rose a couple of inches on Thursday night, but was stationary yesterday, with 3 feet 7 inches. Cloudy, with occasional showers, and the prospects are favorable for more water. Coal men still have hopes of a rise sufficient to let the coal fleet out.

THE Kittie Hegler and John L. Rhoads left Cincinnati for this port on Thursday.

COMMODORE H. J. KOUNTZ arrived at St. Louis from Pittsburgh Thursday morning. He is well satisfied with the arrangements of boats loading in turn, and will remain in the line.

CAPT. A. H. SHAW, well known here, but who has been boating below of late years, has, we learn, abandoned the river for the present, and is engaged in supplying steamboats with vegetables at St. Louis.

THE Memphis Avalanche says that the Utah, Fannie Tatum, Ashland, Clarksville, John Howard, and one or two other boats are to run between New Orleans and Fort Smith, in Arkansas River, next season.

SAM CORBIS, an old Pittsburgher, who was mate of steamers here some 20 years ago, but of late years has been boating below, was in the city yesterday. He is visiting his family, who reside some few miles out in the country.

A VERY interesting letter from Bismarck, written by Mr. James I. Earle, clerk of the steamer Western, will be found in another part of this paper. It is a reply to the attacks of Com. Kountz upon Mr. Earle and others, in connection with the Missouri transportation contracts.

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Gazette says:—The Kittie Hegler was preparing to leave for Pittsburgh last evening, with two barges in tow. She was drawing 3 feet, and her barges 30 inches. She had 550 tons iron, 50 tons clay, and 100 tons miscellaneous freight. Pilots, Jos. Alexander and George Littleton.... Wharfage collections for the week ending last evening amounted to $145.60. The collections for the first six months of the year 1875 foot up $4,438 30, against $4,672 for the same six months of the previous year.... The light-house steamer, Frank Willard, returned from Pittsburgh last evening.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch, under date of Wednesday, says:—Business fair for the time of the year. The Commonwealth leaves for New Orleans to-morrow night, and the Bismarck follows on Saturday. There is 24 feet of water by the gauge, and the river swelling slowly. Travel between here and St. Paul is heavy. Two boats left to-day full of people. Very little produce is coming in, owing to the fact that the market is bad. Milwaukee and other points are drawing everything at present. The steam tug S. C. Club caught fire at her moorings, on the East St. Louis side, about 1 o'clock this morning, and was totally destroyed. She belonged to the Wiggins Ferry Company, and was the largest tug in the harbor. The John Means is due to-morrow from Cairo, with the balance of her tow. She has a full cargo of ore engaged for Ironton, but will not get away till next week. Several steamers are preparing to make excursion trips on the 4th of July. Rates unchanged.

CINCINNATI, O., July 1, 1875.

Editors Gazette:

The steamer Kittie Hegler will leave here to-night for your place, with two light barges in tow. We have 400 tons for Wheeling and 300 for your city. Will load back at once. Respectfully yours,

J. D. HEGLER.

P. S. We can go from Wheeling up on 30 inches.

FRIDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial has the following:—General Jas. S. Negley was warmly greeted on 'Change yesterday. While representing the Pittsburgh district in Congress, he was distinguished as the fast friend of the Western navigation interests. He left for Catlettsburg last evening on the Fleetwood, and will return here in a day or two....Captain Drinkwater, yesterday, purchased the stern wheel steamer Era No. 9, from Mr. Elias Ehler. Captain Drinkwater will build a new steamer for the Era No. 9's machinery for the Arkansas river trade. It will be remembered Captain Drinkwater built the Nashville here, and the R. K. Dunkerson at Pittsburgh, several years ago. ....Pilots state that there is a very ugly snag in the Ohio at the head of the Brothers, and unless it is removed before the river rises, there will be much difficulty in finding it afterwards, as some of the barges will be placed over it as a monument to warn the pilots away from it....It required seventy-five pounds of nitro-glycerine to blow thirteen stumps out of the way of the steamer W. J. Behan so that she could obtain release from Lake Bisternau, where the mud and stumps had her fast. Captain Tennyson, with the Government boat Sterling, performed the job. Joe Wilkinson has taken his steamer safely to Shreveport....The Frank Willard, of the Light-house Commission, from Pittsburgh, arrived. She returns to Ironton to day.... The John L. Rhoads passed up last night from St. Louis to Pittsburgh. She was detained by fog seven hours, during Wednesday night....The following is from the pilots:—THURSDAY, July 1, 1875.—The John L. Rhoads arrived this evening from St. Louis, with 400 tons for Pittsburgh, 4¾ days out; running time 3 days and 18 hours, having lost 18 hours on account of fog and storms. J. Alex. Frazier and Joseph H. Williams, Pilots.

Channel Obstructions.

Pilot W. H. Hall, of the United States Signal Light steamer Frank Willard, furnishes us with the following obstructions in the channel of the Ohio River, above Cincinnati:

Coal barge, foot of Knox's Bar; top of it now out of water.

Flat loaded with limestone, above the Poor-house in Raccoon Bar, partly out of water. Keel-boat loaded with cement, below Rock Reef, at Poor-house; most of it out of water.

Coal barge in the nook foot of Brown's Island; top of it now out of dry.

Stump about 100 feet from shore, opposite Witten's house; out of water at 5 feet.

Snag about 400 yards below Rigg's Landing, Va., below Petticoat, in the channel.

Root 100 yards above the mouth of Duck Creek.

The channel at the mouth of Muskingum River is very bad; not as much water by 1 foot as there is in other places up to Wheeling.

Snag in middle of the river half way between Hill's Landing and the foot of Blanny.

Snag about 600 yards below Ground Hog, near the middle of the river.

Snag in the middle of the river, opposite Bedford Salt Furnace.

Snag in the middle of the river about 600 yards above Jenkins' Warehouse.

Snag in the middle of the river, abreast of Bowen's Landing, below Millersport.

Snag in the channel 200 yards below Bear Creek, foot of Chilo Reach.

Several of these obstructions have been in the river for some time.—Cin. Commercial, Friday.

HOME NEWS.

Accident to Serenaders.

About one o'clock yesterday morning three women, who were somewhat intoxicated, started to serenade a young couple in the Eleventh ward, Allegheny, and while on the way they all fell over an embankment near the school house, and were more or less injured. One of them named Rose Keifer had one of her ribs fractured.

Change of Presidents.

The official announcement is made that Mr. E. W. Woodward has resigned the Presidency of the Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company, and that Mr. Thomas D. Messler has been elected to the position. Mr. Messler took charge of the office July 1st. He is an able railroad manager, and the selection was an admirable one.

Gas Pipe Line.

It is proposed to lay a gas pipe line from the Vandergrift well, about eight miles back of Tarentum, in Clinton township, Butler county, and convey the gas that is escaping from it to the mills of Spang, Chalfant & Co., near Sharpsburg, thence to the mill of Graff, Bennett & Co., at Millvale, on the West Penn Railroad, and use it as fuel.

Badly Injured.

A young lady, whose name our reporter was unable to learn, is reported to have been badly hurt yesterday at the picnic held by the congregation of Rev. J. W. Witherspoon, on the West Penn railroad. The "flying-horse" broke and the young lady was thrown a considerable distance, by which she is said to have sustained injuries that render her recovery somewhat doubtful.

Runaway.

A horse attached to a wagon which was standing in front of Alderman Bolster's office, on East street, Allegheny, became frightened and ran off yesterday afternoon. The wagon was completely reduced to kindling wood and scrap iron, and the horse had one of its legs very badly injured by a broken bottle. The horse and wagon belonged to Constable David McKnight. No one was hurt.

Allegheny Fire Department Inspection.

A meeting of the Committee on Fire Engines of Allegheny Councils was held last evening, when it was decided to have a public inspection of the Fire Department on Thursday, the 15th inst., at three o'clock in the afternoon. The entire department will meet on Montgomery avenue, where it will be inspected by the Councilmen and citizens.

The monthly pay-roll, amounting to $3,555, was approved. Adjourned.

The Sixty-first Regiment.

A meeting of the surviving members of the Sixty-first regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers was held at the Gerst House, on Madison avenue, Allegheny, on Thursday evening, when the Committee on Constitution and By-laws submitted their report, which was adopted. The following officers were then elected: President—Capt. Alexander Hays; Vice President—John Nelson; Secretary—H. O. C. Oehmler; Treasurer—Henry Ruege; Finance Committee—Dr. Robert M. Tindle, W. G. Miller, George Richards, B. W. Baldwin, Robert Marshall.

Adjourned to meet on next Friday evening at the same place.

City Officer's Returns.

The Allegheny city officers have made the following returns, under oath, to the Controller of the receipts in their respective offices: O. Phillips, Mayor, $721.75; Chas. Davis, City Engineer, $64.00; H. C. Richmond, Superintendent of Water Works, $159.00; David Hastings, Clerk of Markets, $1,365.68; Alex. Hanna, Street Commissioner, W. district, $72.00; W. W. Tyson, Street Commissioner, E. district, $32.00; Geo. B. McNulty, Weighmaster Diamond scales, 137.35; D. J. Boden, Weighmaster Second ward scales, $246.20; V. E. Pauline, Weighmaster Fourth ward scales, $22.42; C. Hoch, Health Officer, $32.00; Wm. Greenawald, Bark Measurer, $325.76.

The Poor Guardians.

The regular meeting of the Board of Guardians of the Poor was held yesterday, Mr. Kincaid presiding. The report of the Superintendent of the farm showed a decrease of nineteen in the number of inmates of the Home. The report, together with those of the district physician, were approved. The bond of Treasurer Magee for faithful collection and care of the poor taxes was presented and received. Bills to the amount of $4,550, were also approved.

In accordance with the recommendation of a committee and the solicitor of the Board, a resolution was adopted providing for a final settlement with the County Poor Board for interest of newly annexed districts in the county property. It is proposed to take $7,000 in two equal annual payments, and the city Board is to waive all further or future claim in case of further annexation. Adjourned.

Attempted Burglary.

Yesterday morning about two o'clock burglars effected an entrance into the residence of Lieut. Chalfant, who resides on Keating alley, in the Eleventh ward. The Lieutenant is on police duty until twelve o'clock, and had gone home at half past twelve for the night. About two o'clock a little daughter who sleeps in a bed room over the dining room heard a noise at the window below, and apprised her mother of their danger. Mrs. Chalfant not thinking of burglars, failed to waken her husband who was none the wiser of what had been going on until after daylight. When the family arose it was found that a strip had been broken off one of the window shutters after which the shutters were opened. The window was raised, but it is thought the would-be thieves were alarmed by a noise and fled. Nothing has been missed from the house, and Mr. Chalfant thinks it was rather fortunate that something was not carried off.

City Surveys.

The Survey Committee met yesterday afternoon in the Common Council chamber, Mr. W. F. Aull in the chair. An ordinance for the location of Bedford street, in the Thirty-second ward, was presented; also a remonstrance against the width of it. The bill was amended by fixing the width at forty feet, and it was then affirmatively recommended.

The following matters were referred to sub-committees. Ordinance re-locating Murray avenue; ordinance establishing the grade of Thirty-fourth street; petition for a change of location of McCandless avenue; petition for and remonstrance against a [illegible]tion of Harrison street; petition [illegible] remonstrance against the wide[illegible] extension of Spring alley and a [illegible] the name. An ordinance was or[illegible] for a change of the location of Maiden [illegible], and a plan ordered for the location [illegible] street from Mary to Birkhammer [illegible]eets. The pay roll for June, amounting to $1023.43 was approved and the committee adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Duprez & Benedict's minstrels played to an excellent house last night, it being their first appearance in Pittsburgh since last winter, and the warm greeting they received was but an honest and truthful recognition of their undoubted merit and ability, and conclusive evidence that the enjoyment they caused so many a few months ago, has not yet been forgotten. Carncross & Dixey's combination was once the favorite here, but Duprez & Benedict have been making such rapid strides in public estimation that the former can no longer claim the honor of pre-eminence. The performance last night was "rich and rare." It sparkled with fun and was replete with melody from beginning to end. All the jokes and conundrums were bright, fresh and crisp and the ear was greeted by no second-hand, stale attempts at wit or humor. Owing to limited space we cannot particularize this morning, but we do assure all amusement lovers that Duprez & Benedict's minstrels cannot be surpassed. Two performances will be given to-day, afternoon and evening, and two on Monday.

ALLEGHENY POOR BOARD.

Monthly Meeting Last Night.

A regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny Board of Directors of the Poor was held last evening, Mr. J. H. Morrison presiding, and Mr. R. D. McGonnigle, Secretary.

Mr. D. T. Johnston, Steward of the Poor Farm, reported that during June, 16 persons were admitted to the Poor department, 23 were discharged, there were 2 births and 3 deaths, leaving 135 inmates in this department. In the Insane department one person was admitted and one discharged, and one death, leaving 44 inmates in this department. Report received.

Mr. R. D. McGonnigle, Secretary, reported having disbursed $119.25 among the resident poor, and $26.95 among the non-resident, and $41.95 for incidental expenses. He collected $10.00 for boarding of paupers, and $153.00 for potatoes sold. Report received.

Dr. B. B. Smith reported that he had made 340 visits to the poor of the city, and had received 208 calls at his office. Report received.

The contract for furnishing the coal at the Poor House for the year was awarded to Dickson, Stewart & Co., at the following rates: Lump coal, eight and three-fourths cents per bushel; nut coal, seven cents per bushel.

The Committee on Poor Farm was authorized to offer for sale all the lots remaining of the old Poor Farm.

After the approval of some bills, and the transaction of some unimportant business, adjourned.

VERY many of our readers will be interested to know that the venerable David Cook Page, D. D., of the Episcopal church, will attain to the fiftieth anniversary of his ministry in September; and that some of the many admirers of his character and eloquence have requested him to commemorate the approaching event by a discourse in Trinity church, giving a review of his ministerial life, which we know has been marked by a variety of interesting events and experiences. We trust the Rev. Doctor will conclude to gratify his friends in this matter, and that we will be there to hear him.

THE Emory Monthly, published by the Emory M. E. Church, East End, makes this neat hit. "Wanted, at this office immediately, about a half a dozen good looking young men to loiter about the door and watch the people as they enter and leave the church. No testimonials will be required concerning previous occupation, moral character, culture, or social standing, as the duties of the position require a vigorous use of the eyes only, with no demands upon the intellectual or moral faculties. An early application will be necessary for those desiring positions, as the standing room is now pretty well occupied. If this meets the eye of a young man desiring such a place, he need not delay for a special engagement, but is authorized to proceed at once to his duties."

FRATERNAL COMPLIMENTS.

The Resignation of Rev. W. M. Coleman—Action of His Co-Presbyters.

Rev. Wm. M. Coleman has been released from the pastoral charge of the Ninth U. P. Church, of this city, and has been granted a certificate of dismission from the Presbytery of Monongahela. This resignation was offered several months since, but the Presbytery refused at that time to dissolve the relation. At the meeting held on last Tuesday Mr. Coleman renewed and urged his request, which after many expressions by his co-Presbyters of confidence in him, and regret at his departure, was granted. Mr. Coleman is well known in this community, Pittsburgh having been his home and place of labor ever since his entrance into the ministry. He has during these years held his place in the esteem of his friends, not by time-serving sycophancy, nor by moulding himself to the shape of others, nor by neutrality at any time when right was battling with wrong, but by maintaining an honorable individuality and by working unselfishly with earnestness of purpose. He leaves a congregation between which and himself there exists a friendship unusually warm and which feels keenly the loss it has sustained. The following paper, prepared by Dr. Reid, was ordered a place on the records of the Presbytery.

WHEREAS, Presbytery has accepted the resignation of W. M. Coleman as pastor of the Ninth Church of Pittsburgh, and has granted him a certificate of standing and dismission; and whereas, it gives us sincere sorrow to part with one who has been a member of our Presbytery for upwards of fifteen years; and whereas, we wish our brother to carry with him the assurance of our continued respect and affection; therefore,

Resolved, That we bear testimony to Bro. Coleman's faithfulness and fearlessness as a preacher of the Gospel of Christ; that we cordially recommend him to the congregations and Presbyteries of the Church in which he may be called to labor; that we will rejoice in his future as in his past success, and that we will pray that he may ever enjoy the honor of a faithful minister here, and the reward of a faithful minister hereafter.

A Good Name vs. Great Riches.

With some business men, money-making is their only object, while a few prefer a good name to be given by selling goods of excellence at fair and living prices, of which number is R. Taggart, 129 Federal street, who keeps an immense and varied assortment of boots, shoes and gaiters, of the very best qualities, which, being sold at small profits, make his Boot and Shoe House the most profitable place in the two cities for buyers in this line of goods.

ARRIVAL OF PRISONERS.

Candidates for the Western Penitentiary—Two Parties Committed to Jail.

Last evening United States Marshal Hall and Deputy Ad. Hall arrived from Williamsport with half a dozen prisoners, four of whom will be taken to the Western Penitentiary this morning. Those who go across the river are L. B. Sands and Ephriam Decker, who were convicted of counterfeiting; L. W. Harrington, who plead guilty to sending obscene matter through the mails, and whose sentence is for three years; Robert Smith, convicted of stealing a letter from the Williamsport postoffice, and who is sentenced for one year.

Benjamin Erhway and Nathan B. Adams were both lodged in jail, the latter having plead guilty to counterfeiting, sentence having been suspended, and the former being indicted for a similar offence. Erhway jumped his bail a few days ago, and was captured at Warrensville last week.

In the case of Harrington, it will be remembered that he plead guilty to three charges of sending obscene matter through the mails. He had printed a small paper in Williamsport, which was rather successful, and when the Court opened at that point a few days ago, a petition to which was affixed the signatures of some of the first citizens of the town for his release was presented to Judge McCandless. It was evident that a number of the petitioners did not know what they were doing, for when they saw a copy of the publication, upon which Harrington had been indicted, they asked that their names be erased from the roll. The prisoner was only sentenced on one charge and that for a period of three years, sentence on the other two having been suspended. It is said one or two of the jurors thought he ought to have been confined for life, so vulgar were the productions which he was casting broadcast over the State.

The Girard Hotel, Philadelphia.

as will be seen by an advertisement in this paper, has passed into the hands of Messrs. McKibbin, Vosburg & Co., the firm including the brothers Chambers and Jere. McKibbin, formerly of this city, but for many years lessees of the Merchants' Hotel, Philadelphia. They are veteran hotel keepers, have mastered all the obstacles to a perfect knowledge of "how to keep a hotel." Thousands of Pittsburghers and other thousands of western men accustomed to visit Philadelphia, will rejoice that the McKibbins' have taken the Girard; its greater size and more eligible and central position than the old "Merchants'" is just what, with the well earned popularity of the present lessees, was needed to make it a successful Pittsburgh and western resort. We give you joy Messrs. Chambers and Jerry; you have always been the right men and now you are in the right place.

Business Activity.

Times are not dull. Every person to the contrary notwithstanding. For proof of this go the Boston Clothing House, 95 Smithfield street, and as you wedge your way through the crowd of customers you will be reminded of the crowds on market day. But, so it is and so it will be, for while suits are sold at 95 Smithfield street for ten and twelve dollars, for which others charge twenty and twenty-five, the Boston One Price will be the center of attraction.

SIGNAL LIGHTS.

Action Taken by the Coal Exchange Yesterday—Resolutions of Thanks and Recognition.

The Coal Exchange held an adjourned meeting yesterday morning at their rooms, corner of Wood and Market streets, for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed to consider the communications of Pilot W. H. Hall and Lieut. C. H. Rockwell regarding the location and proposed changes of river signal lights between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. The report of the committee was presented by Mr. Shouse, as follows:

To the Coal Exchange, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Your committee beg leave to submit the following report: Committee met at the Coal Exchange rooms, June 30th, at nine A. M., Captain James A. Blackmore, Chairman, and carefully examined the communications of Lieut. C. H. Rockwell and Pilot William H. Hall, of the United States Signal Light Service, in regard to the lights now placed, and others yet to be placed, as suggested by pilot Hall, at points on the Ohio river, between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, for the guidance of pilots at night. We find that at nearly every point where lights have been placed, they are in the best possible positions. We have, however, suggested some changes, also some new lights where we consider them necessary. We suggest the moving of the light at Duff's at the foot of the high bank above the road, instead of to the brick church, as suggested by Pilot Hall. * * * Foot of Brown's Island, to be moved down abreast of sunken barge, when the barge is removed. The foregoing list [omitted here because it has already been published in the GAZETTE. Rep.] comprises all the lights now placed between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, together with the new ones proposed in Lieut. Rockwell's and Pilot Hall's communications, in connection with which your committee would respectfully make the following suggestions: That a light be placed on the point opposite the mouth of Will's creek. One on the point opposite Pipe creek. One on Shade river point. One on the Ohio side at Oldtown, above the little bar, known to pilots as Jenny Lind bar. One at Wolff's bar, Ohio side, opposite the old stump in the river. One at the foot of Greenbottom bar, on the Ohio side, to show from Rankin's Landing, going down. One on Burke's Point. One for the Kentucky side at Richmond bar, at the brick house, as a mark for the outside shute. One at the point of rocks on the Virginia side of Mustapha Island, as a night mark for towboats. Your Committee would also offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That to Lieut. C. H. Rockwell and Pilot Wm. H. Hall, of the U. S. Signal Light Service, are due the thanks of all Pittsburgh and Cincinnati pilots, and all others who are interested in the safe navigation of the Ohio river, for the efficient manner in which they have discharged their duties, and for their earnest endeavors to so satisfy all that the signal lights placed by them will be most beneficial to night navigation.

Signed, James A. Blackmore, Geo. W. McCallam, Samuel Dean, Sr., J. L. Reno, Wm. H. Dorsey, G. W. Gray, James Shouse, Robt. M. Boles, L. A. Reno, A. J. Marsilliott, Madison Baily, J. L. Kerr.

The report was unanimously adopted, when Mr. Jno. F. Dravo offered the following, which was also adopted, and the Exchange adjourned:

Resolved, That the Coal Exchange fully appreciate the importance of the admirable system of lights as adopted by Lieutenant C. H. Rockwell, of the United States Signal Light Service, for the Western rivers, the advantages of which are apparent to all engaged in the navigation of the waters of the West, and we hereby express an earnest desire that the same be made permanent in order to insure safe navigation and to guard against damages to life and property on these great arteries of commerce, so important to the interests of the whole country.

Resolved, That as river men, interested in the navigation of Western rivers, and exposed to the perils of said navigation, we recognize the wisdom and sound national policy of Congress in making the required appropriations so essential for the promotion of the interests of cheap transportation and in asserting such superintendency of said rivers as will largely contribute to the welfare of the populations interested, and trust that the same policy will be confirmed as a settled legislation of the Government.

Begone Dull Times—Business Must Revive—If People Will Not Buy Goods at Low Prices, They Must Take Them at Ruinous Prices—Unheard of Bargains.

It has long been the belief that the cheapest place to get a suit of clothes is at a fire, but considering the risk attending this method, there is a place in our city even cheaper than a fire. The proprietor has determined that his very heavy stock of fine and fashionable ready-made clothing must be closed out, and to this end has marked down to bottom prices every article of wearing apparel in his store. "Regardless of cost" is now his motto, and should he not be able to sell at half cost, the goods must go at whatever they will bring. Auction sales are no where for cheapness when compared with the low, very low prices at which this stock will be sold. Say no more that times are hard, since you can get clothing at you own figures. Who is he? What is his number? These great bargains are offered by T. Tobias, the Prince of Clothiers, at No. 13 Sixth street.

Costly Thy Habit, as Thy Purse, &c.

Where a merchant tailoring house has attained to the rank of first-class by reason of the excellence of its suits, many are deterred, and especially so in these slow times, from patronizing it, having the belief that first-class goods necessarily involve high prices. As a rule, this may be true, but there are a few exceptions, one of which, for the benefit of our readers, we will point out. We refer to the Number One establishment of T. Scandrett & Co., No. 225 Liberty street, where, although the goods used could be of no better grade, and the care bestowed on their manufacture no more attentive, and the fit no more perfect, yet the prices charged are no more than are charged by others for shoddy suits of bungling make up.

European Steamship Arrivals Reported Yesterday.

Dispatches received at Max Schamberg's European Steamship, Exchange and Telegraph office, at 163 Smithfield street, announce the arrival of the steamer Colombo at New York; Ohio at Southampton; Scythia at Queenstown; Cornwall at Bristol; Aug. Andrea at Antwerp.

Although you may not have ordered a suit from the fine and fashionable assortment of Summer suitings in store by Jas. Blakely, No. 60 Smithfield street, yet be wise in time and consult your comfort and pocket by leaving your measure for one of his perfect fitting suits.

JOHN A. MYLER, P. M.

A Case of Mistaken Identity.

In our yesterday's issue we reported the burglary which occurred at the residence of Mr. Birchell, on Union avenue, Allegheny, and the escape of the burglar. Yesterday morning Mr. Birchell saw a colored man talking to a lady on South Diamond street, Allegheny, and as he resembled the man who had entered his house, he at once collared him, and charged him with being the burglar. The man denied the charge, and compelled Mr. Birchell to take his hands off him. He then went to Alderman Edgar and preferred a charge of assault and battery against Mr. Birchell, and declared his intention to prosecute him for defamation of character. His name is Wm. Robinson. A warrant was issued on Mr. Birchell.

A Sure Cure for Corns.

He does not use the same form of last for every foot, but has such a variety of forms that every foot is sure to be fitted, and the wearer experiences real comfort and enjoyment. Good material, careful attention to fit and low prices at 108 Federal street, Allegheny City.

THANKS "FROM THE DEPTHS OF THE HEART."

WELLINGTON, Lorain Co., O., Aug. 24, 1874.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir—Your medicines, Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, have proved of the greatest service to me. Six months ago no one thought that I could possibly live long. I had a complication of diseases,—scrofula, manifesting itself in eruptions and great blotches on my head that made such sores that I could not have my hair combed without causing me much suffering; also causing swollen glands, tonsils enlarged, enlarged or "thick neck," and large and numerous boils. I also suffered from a terrible Chronic Catarrh, and in fact I was so diseased that life was a burden to me. I had tried many doctors with no benefit. I finally procured one-half dozen bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery and one dozen Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and commenced their use. At first I was badly discouraged, but after taking four bottles of the Discovery I began to improve, and when I had taken the remaining I was well. In addition to the use of Discovery I applied a solution of Iodine to the Goitre or thick neck, as you advise in pamphlet wrapping, and it entirely disappeared. Your Discovery is certainly the most wonderful blood medicine ever invented. I thank God and you, from the depths of my heart, for the great good it has done me.

Very respectfully,
MRS. L. SHAFFEE.

Most medicines which are advertised as blood purifiers and liver medicines contain either mercury, in some form, or potassium and iodine variously combined. All of these agents have strong tendency to break down the blood corpuscles, and debilitate and otherwise permanently injure the human system, and should therefore be discarded. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, on the other hand, being composed of the fluid extracts of native plants, barks and roots, will in no case produce injury, its effects being strengthening and curative only. Sarsaparilla, which used to enjoy quite a reputation as a blood purifier, is a remedy of thirty years ago, and may well give place, as it is doing, to the more positive and valuable vegetable alternatives which later medical investigation and discovery has brought to light. In Scrofula or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammation, Mercurial affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, and Sore Eyes, as in all other blood diseases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has shown its great remedial powers, curing the most obstinate and intractable cases. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Three Attainable Blessings.

A good appetite, vigorous digestion and sound sleep are the three blessings that imply a good many more, and are attainable by the daily use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The stomach that is invigorated by that ruling tonic rapidly disposes of the food committed to it, and at the proper time craves for more with natural earnestness, and the brain from pain and despondency have banished by that salutary anodyne and cheering cordial, enjoys at the hour of rest that tranquil, dreamless repose for which no other boon that Providence can bestow can compensate. Besides these most desirable results, the entire physique is strengthened and fortified against the attacks of disease by this splendid vitalizer and protective agent, which, take it altogether, is about the most desirable, as it is unquestionably one of the most popular medicines in existence.

VEGETINE

Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.

VEGETINE

Is not a vile, nauseous compound, which simply purges the bowels, but a safe, pleasant remedy which is sure to purify the blood and thereby restore the health.

VEGETINE

Is now prescribed in cases of Scrofula and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE

Does not deceive invalids into false hopes by purging and creating a fictitious appetite, but assists nature in clearing and purifying the whole system, leading the patient gradually to perfect health.

VEGETINE

Was looked upon as an experiment for some time by some of our best physicians, but those most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

VEGETINE

Instead of being a puffed-up medicine has worked its way up to its present astonishing success by actual merit in curing all diseases of the blood, of whatever nature.

VEGETINE

Says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE

Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

PROOF.
WHAT IS NEEDED

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:
Dear Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use I procured the article, and after using several bottles was restored to health and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours,
U. L. PETTINGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettingill & Co., 10 State street, Boston.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:
Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE furnished me by your agent my wife has used with great benefit.
For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and costiveness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEGETINE.
She was also troubled with dyspepsia and general debility, and has been greatly benefited.

THOMAS GILMORE.

FEEL MYSELF A NEW MAN.

NATICK, Mass., June 1, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:
Dear Sir—Through the advice and earnest persuasion of Rev. E. S. Best, of this place, I have been taking VEGETINE for dyspepsia, of which I have suffered for years.
I have used only two bottles and already feel myself a new man. Respectfully,

DR. J. W. CARTER.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, January 1, 1874.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have sold at retail 154 1-3 dozen (1852 bottles) of your Vegetine since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity.

Very respectfully yours,
AL GILMAN,
